

Leader interviewed by Eddy O'Sullivan for Resistance Radio

<https://www.resistanceradio.tv/edward-osullivan-interviews-former-bnp-and-britain-first-regional-organiser-gary-raikes/>

The Resistance Radio project was conceived by former members of the British National Party – the most successful nationalist movement in British history. The BNP broke the PC taboo against discussing mass immigration and the dispossession of the native British in their own land. The success and growing appeal of the BNP so panicked the liberal elite that they spent every election over ten whole years talking up Nigel Farage and UKIP, not because they liked them, but as a way of blocking the BNP. And, as we all know, that little trick blew up in their faces in truly spectacular style – leading DIRECTLY to Brexit, which in turn – according to Breitbart – inspired and energised the Trump campaign in the USA.

So a party that set out to save Britain and – thanks to the BBC - ended up saving the world from Hillary Clinton and certain war by accident! How's THAT for an example of the Law of Unintended Consequences in action?! It just shows what even small groups of people – if patriots work together to build effective structures. Which is what ResistanceRadio.TV is all about. Because freedom isn't free – it has to be worked for, paid for, and fought for. With the demolition of the BNP, a vacuum was created in British nationalist politics. One day that gap needs to be filled – but first nationalists need an independent voice and common ground on which to meet.

That's the potential of Resistance Radio, and it's why

I'm happy to be a regular guest, and to see others taking part as well. The very fact that, in the past, some of us may have clashed, highlights the value of Resistance Radio as a tool to build unity. So I wish the team running this exciting project all the best in their endeavours.

Resistance Radio can be the hub around which a new generation of nationalist activists and leaders build an activist organisation to fight for the rights and the survival of our people. It can become an important voice and organising base for radical traditionalists and revolutionary nationalists.

That's why I'm pleased to be a regular guest contributor, and why I hope you will become a regular listener and active supporter of Resistance Radio.

Yours as ever!

Nick Griffin

TIME TO RISE UP PEOPLE BEFORE ITS TO LATE!

It has become glaringly obvious that mass-immigration was engineered to pave the way for globalisation; to dilute national pride and cultural identity, two characteristics that would undoubtedly pose a huge threat to globalisation phase one: The European Union.

A proud indigenous population of a historical nation wouldn't accept being absorbed into a homogenous artificially formed 'global' nation, a New World Order.

There is no other feasible explanation for letting largely unskilled, uncivilised, fiercely religious, wholly incompatible people, with a high propensity to violence, into our land. They have nothing positive to offer.

All of the spurious explanations for filling Britain with third-worlders, given by successive governments, have been easily debunked with facts, figures and logic.

If Britain so badly needed skilled workers, why would the workers have to be immigrants? We have some of the best education institutions on the planet, and why would the immigrants have to be from the third-world? Judging by the state of the countries these people come from they are clearly short of skills.

Their nations have been ruined by their cultures' inability to build and maintain civilisation...which is why they want to flee the desolate wastelands their cultures have created/destroyed. If they couldn't create something worthwhile for themselves, do you expect us to believe they could contribute anything of value to Britain? If these people are so wonderful why are their countries of origin so uninhabitable?

Why wouldn't the government make it easier for Americans, Australians, New Zealanders or South Africans to come here? We share a language, similar cultures and ethics. They would fit right in.

I'll tell you why; It's because those people are of European descent, who also come from independent, sovereign nations with proud histories, who would also oppose the destruction of their ancestral homeland. They would oppose handing Europe over to an unelected global dictatorship, run by the Rothschild dynasty.

The nonsense about immigrants propping up the pension pot is a fatuous lie. Mass immigration has been reported to be a net loss of up to £17 billion per year, and has brought with it a whole host of social and cultural problems: Honour killings, FGM, terrorism, rape, fraud, gang culture, acid attacks, identity theft and robbery. Not to mention the anti-social behaviour and contempt these beings present to their host nation. Multi-culturalism is killing Britain.

70% of 'skilled worker' migrants are illiterate in their own languages, yet are somehow paraded as a miraculous solution to our economic problems, when opposite is true.

Low-skilled, low-IQ people take low income jobs. Low income jobs are subsidised by the taxpayer in the form of benefits. The vast majority of employed migrants are in low-skilled work, making them a net drain on resources. What about unemployed immigrants? 50% of Muslim men don't work. 75% of Muslim women don't work. Yet they are producing children at a rate that has made Mohamed (and its spelling variations) the most registered baby name in Britain. Their religion promotes subversion and conquest. They are taking Britain over from within. I would say a fifth column, but we already have one of those, making Islam a sixth column.

They are populating our country with their people who will, in turn, do the same as their jobless parents; take resources they haven't earned and breed. That is the definition of parasite. Britons are financing the parenthood of jobless immigrants who will, at this rate, outnumber native Britons in a few short years. All while the native population put off having kids because they can't afford them, because they're paying exorbitant levels of tax to fund the third-world invasion and Britain's involvement in wars in the Middle-East, for the purpose of defending Israel from their enemies, of which there are many.

This is genocide, according to the United Nations. Any act likely to cause displacement (white flight) or dispossession (diminished access to services and housing) are acts of genocide. Allowing the native population to be outbred by the invading hordes is another act of genocide. This is all outlined in the U.N Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous peoples. I suggest you read it and re-evaluate Britain's immigration policy accordingly.

It is often said that the NHS wouldn't survive without migrant workers, even though the NHS will collapse as it has been engineered to, to force the nation into private healthcare; another little gift from the government to the bankers they represent.

If migrants are so essential to the NHS, why have average A&E waiting times increased by 100%, from 6 hours to 12 hours, during the peak of the migrant influx? Could it be that the migrants are using our services, rather than contributing to them? We are one of the wealthiest countries in the world, yet have a shockingly poor healthcare system that isn't fit for purpose.

Migrants make up the majority of NHS doctors stuck off for negligence, indecency, sexual assault and forged or inadequate qualifications. Those 'skilled workers' again.

Why do we have a demand for new homes to be built that exactly matches the figure of net migration to the UK each year? We have too many people, not too few homes. We're now the most densely populated country in Europe. Something has got to give.

Since the British people have refused to be swallowed up by globalism, by voting to leaving the EU, mass-immigration no longer has a purpose. Its purpose of diluting public resistance to globalism has failed, so you can send the invaders back. Last in first out.

We have no obligation, morally or legally, to accept, tolerate, house, feed or clothe these people. British citizens are forced to work for 40-50-60 years of their lives to survive, while the tax they contribute isn't benefitting them or the people of Britain, but funding the breeding programmes of people who do not belong here.

In Britain we conserve our areas of outstanding natural beauty. We give historical buildings listed status and maintain them with period methods and materials wherever possible. Our native wildlife species are carefully monitored and managed so that they may be around for future generations to enjoy.

Why isn't the native human population given the same consideration?

This is genocide.

HAVE YOUR SAY

Message: My name is dominic, i live in North east of Scotland. The change in demographic and political landscape worries me, and i wish to help in the preservation of the British people and values. I am not a criminal, nor am i a racist or a "skinhead", i simply refuse to stand idle while financiers and political puppets destroy my home and displace its native peoples under the guise of "multiculturalism".

I hope to hear from you soon.

Best wishes,
D. Sharkey

Message: I have always been thoroughly interested in politics and has been my future career of choice, I've always felt that there hasn't been a party or group that represents my political views until today where i found out much about your group. i have been a staunch admirer of Oswald Mosley so it felt fitting to apply for the NBU.

Would just like to introduce myself to everyone

My name is Alexander Agnew mostly called Anders by friends and comrades..I grew up in Glasgow and have been involved in the usual movements and groups since I was about 21 or so. I drifted between the two big groups like National Front and British Movement then BNP for most of my life until I got really interested in Oswald Mosley and his black shirts when I was about 30 but never actually found NBU until about maybe 5 years ago when I was reading some literature about the new rise in fascism in Scotland and it really made me think that this could be a true political party if we all pull together and stand in local or parish elections backing the independent candidate to push through some of our main points then we can stand up with all the big political parties like Con/Lab/Lib and SNP in Scotland.

I would like to say a BIG hello to all Blackshirts and I look forward to meeting you all and may we strive to make a difference and fight to bring the glory of fascism back to the UK.

I can be reached by email alexagnewnov9@gmail.com or Facebook as Alexander Anderson /Agnew on twitter as @fascist_alba and @blackshirt_alba .im also on VK as Fascist Briton so look forward to talking to you all .

WORDS FROM GRANVILLE

As always I like reading Anton Rippon's column in your paper - but Wednesday's was of special interest to me with its comments on some of our forms of greetings round here. "Buddy, chief, youth, duck, chum ....you can call me almost anything but I do like Commander," Anton Rippon, 27th September.

With my life-long friend Jack Holland from Belper, who died in March, our greeting was always, "Ey up youth, orate then?".

Indeed we often used the second person singular when talking with each other.

Anton's comments on the use of "duck" were interesting when he wrote that visitors to Derbyshire are often puzzled when members of the same sex refer to each other as "duck".

I am nearly 80 and can assure him that women have always called each other "duck" - but men using it to each other is a relatively modern change.

When I was younger only a certain type of man would call other men "duck" or, God forbid, "ducky"!

I well remember being with my middle brother, Russ, when he was about 18 in Belper and a bloke who had just moved up from down south and was picking up our speech called Russ "duck". I had to restrain our Russ from striking him. Ah, the good old days. Times change!

Anton and his readers might be interested to learn that our friendly term duck has nothing to do with a feathered creature but comes from an Anglo-Saxon greeting.

It is derived from a respectful Anglo-Saxon form of address, "Duka" [literally Duke] and is unrelated to a waterfowl. Our term "Ey up" [often spelt ayup or eyup] is a greeting of Old Norse origin [se upp] used a lot throughout the North Midlands and South Yorkshire. This is from our time in the Danelaw.

Swanwick.

Local folks often ask me for details of the different flags I fly from my flag post in Swanwick. I have 14 different ones, flown at fortnightly intervals unless, like right now, something special crops up. I have taken down my Derbyshire flag and replaced it with the flag of the nationalists of Catalunya. This has the red and yellow bars of the Catalan national flag with a five pointed star in a triangle at the hoist. Catalans have been struggling for independence from Spain for hundreds of years and have their own mother-tongue and culture. Their regional government just held a vote for independence. The Spanish government answered this by sending in 4,000 national police and military Guardia Civil officers to crush the election. They used clubs against supporters of independence who were holding their hands above their heads, in peace. It was good to see the Catalan police and fire service helped the voters. Amateur photos have shown police kicking, beating and pulling people by the hair in Barcelona. Anybody old enough to remember the Spanish Civil War or who might have studied it will realise this sort of violence has not been seen in Catalunya since then when Catalan Nationalists were attacked by both the army of General Franco and the army of his Communist opponents! It was good to see FC Barcelona team-mates walk on to the pitch before a game with Las Palmas wearing Catalan training kit.

What is the point of giving aid to the Brazilians?

Brazil is the world's ninth biggest economy and, in the last three years, it has spent billions hosting the Olympic Games and the football World Cup. Not by any reasonable measure is it a poor country.

So, it is highly questionable, to say the least, why it should get £80 million from our bloated foreign aid budget. Especially as, like many countries where we ladle out aid spending, it has an appalling record for corruption.

Our ministers carry on handing over tens of millions to economic powerhouses like India and China. They are also pumping nearly £2 billion a year into countries with disgraceful human rights records.

Meanwhile our military capacity is dangerously cut back, our social care system is collapsing and our overcrowded jails are erupting in violence. And to think this Government seems to be the best choice right now!

King Alfred the Great is thought by many English historians to be the greatest ever Englishman and the only English king to be known as the Great.

Before the Normans took over the envy of all Europe. What in England in 1066, the Church in England was as much Orthodox as Roman Catholic but the Normans changed all that by getting rid of all Saxon bishops and priests and replacing them with Normans. Until the takeover, Saints in England were chosen unofficially by the local folks rather than from Rome. King Alfred lived from 848 to 899 and died on October 26. This date is recognised as his Feast Day. King Alfred was a pious man who strengthened the role of Christianity in the lands he ruled thus making English unity stronger. An important step was when he beat the Danish Army of King Guthram of East Anglia and insisted on the conversion of Guthram and his followers. He built up a standing army with half being ready at all times whilst the other half worked the fields.

Saxon soldiers were taught to use horses, though mainly to get to the battlefield before fighting on foot. King Alfred was an educated man who translated many books from Latin into English and brought in educated outlanders to educate the Saxons. He also encouraged the growth of a market economy. A strictly controlled coin system was built which made his kingdom

Each National/regional Officer should be building cells in their regions. These cells will then be directed to support members that are willing to stand in local elections. Candidates should aim to get their names out into the community. Attend council meetings as a member of the public, get on to Parish Councils and get involved in any community action taking place in their ward. This should be explained to any members that have been forwarded to them to contact .

WAR AND PEACE:

(THE SHORT FORM)

By Seth Tyrssen

Well no, this isn't a re-hash or review of the famous book. Couldn't resist that title, though. Rather, these are some general musings on the topic in general. Anyone who studies the work of Sir Oswald Mosley, even superficially, will find that he repeatedly stated that his main mission, his passion, was to bring an end to war.

Nor was he alone in this goal, by any means. The great writer H.G. Wells had the same passion, and died feeling that he'd been a failure. He said that his tombstone should read "Damn you, you bastards, I told you so." He lived long enough to serve as an advisor on the 1937 film based on his story, "Things To Come," arguably the greatest and most important film ever made. A must-see.

Defend yourself when attacked? By all means. Either on a personal or a national level. Be enthusiastic cannon-fodder for profiteers who usually sit comfortably back home? I'd suggest thinking twice about that.

I, myself, did exactly that, when they offered me the opportunity to visit sunny Vietnam. While I would have loved to get the physical training and mental discipline that military life can provide, I had absolutely no desire to go kill people I'd never met, at the behest of a cynical, corrupt government that simply wanted to test all their new toys, and the Hell with the expendable soldiers. Vietnam was a matter for the Vietnamese.

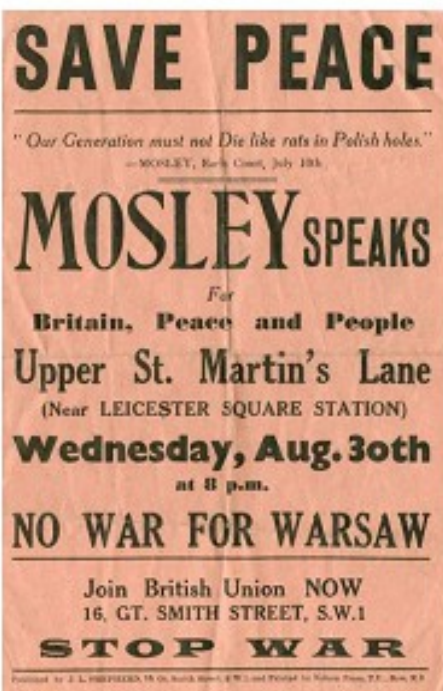

National service, in and of itself, is certainly a good thing. You owe your country something, to be sure. But service to whom? If your nation has been taken over by a gang of thugs who simply want to make themselves richer by basing everything on war technology, it's time for a re-think.

In 1968, I lived one mile from Canada; but I refused to run, as many others did. I chose instead to speak out against the Tyrant Regime, and this was the beginning of a very long feud. It was especially difficult because in America, the "anti-war movement" consisted of a lot of well-meaning people being led around by the nose, by the Communists. Where are all those "anti-war" people now? Most caved in and became part of the Establishment they once opposed.

The greatest anti-war rally ever held, however, was held by Sir Oswald Mosley at Earl's Court in 1939. It was, as one article puts it, "an appeal from the heart of a soldier from the trenches." Mosley had seen the madness of war first-hand, in World War One, both on land and in the air.

War and Peace, 2

So, is peace a notion contrary to Fascism? Not at all. Mussolini's greatest error was in playing "keep up with the Hitlers" and in believing that the age of empires still existed; his adventure in Ethiopia left Italy bankrupt and made him beholden to Germany.

With all due respect to Il Duce, Mosley was a much more far-sighted Fascist. And that, in the era before the atom bomb. It was still practical, if not desirable, to drop bombs all over people and wage war with projectile-firing weapons.

Now, we have the ability to destroy the planet itself about 21 times over, when once will be quite enough. Atomic weapons, biological weapons, and fiendish things we know nothing about, have rendered war obsolete. There are always plenty of good reasons to hate and fight ____ (fill in the blank.) Fight for your country, by all means -- but do it at home. If your government is run by traitors, then that's your number one enemy. Maybe it's time for a change. Your first duty is to the Earth; the path of peace and prosperity, as Sir Oswald argued for all his life, is the right path.

NBU Action Teams

Promoting the NBU website is of paramount importance, it is where visitors will find all the information about our movement and British Fascism that will hopefully enlighten them to the truth.

CYBER ACTIVITY

The easiest and most effective way of promoting the movement, activists should set up social network pages (Facebook, Twitter etc) here you will be able to share all articles from the website and the official Blackshirts page. All newspapers now have on-line issues where comments can be left, these should be targeted and any articles relevant to our movement should be bombarded with pro-NBU comments.

From time to time you may receive jokes that have been forwarded to you from friends, these often include the email addresses of all people that have been sent and passed the joke on, simply copy and paste all email addresses onto one of our articles or posters and send out. All newspapers have a 'letters page'; email them as often as possible with pro-NBU emails.

STREET ACTIVITY

This is better undertaken by a small team of 2-3 people, remember the aim is to promote the website and the movement, short to the point messages should be employed, we have many posters that can be used for this.

<http://newbritishunion.co.uk/nbu-posters.html>

Bill sticking

One member has a small tub of wallpaper paste and brush, one has the existing posters up are ideal) Once you have enough targets arrange a night and off you go! Member one pastes the wall member two puts up the poster and sponges over while member three checks all clear. Come the morning these posters will be really difficult for the reds to rip down!

Cards

These are best used by 'lone wolf' activists, they can be tucked in car door windows, put on notice flyers/posters and sponge, and the other keeps a look out. Identify places where a poster will be seen by the most people and is not private or council property (boarded up shops, fences around building sites, or where there are boards, left in libraries, doctors, bus stops, hospitals, anywhere people have to sit and wait! Tucking them into the driver side window is very effective in a public car park, drivers will pick them up before entering the car, most will not want to litter so will put them on the dash or in their pocket.

NEW BRITISH UNION – WE MARCH FOR BRITAIN

Banners

The best way to use banners, which can be got very cheaply now a days, is to hang them on road bridges ready for the morning rush hour, these will be seen by hundreds if not thousands of people before any red gets to take them down!

LOCAL CAMPAIGNS

Most towns will have campaigns running, against a planned by-pass, anti wind farm, save our swimming pool etc. Go along to these type of events to lend a hand, wear your black shirt and 'Flash and Circle' badge this will give you the chance to answer questions like "what's that badge for" etc. Maybe have a handful of flyers or cards to give to people who are interested. If there is a 'right wing' demo planned in your area go along with a 'Flash and Circle' flag, while various groups leaderships don't want us there you will find the majority of people on the demo will be glad to see you! Remember its getting the 'Flash and Circle' out to the public and linked to NBU in their minds. Build your small team of trustworthy comrades, plan your actions and carry them out in a military way. No need to confront the braindead left who are a lost cause, your efforts should be aimed at getting the message to the general public, British fascism is back!

New British Union political uniforms a statement

As the only movement that stands openly against sham democracy we have no wish to emulate the political class, we are different and will be seen to be different. We consider it our right as a Fascist organisation based on voluntary discipline to wear political uniform if we so desire. In keeping with the 1936 Public Order Act at the present uniforms will be only worn in private meetings or at private events. We intend to challenge this outdated attack on our personal liberty as we believe it to be an Act passed solely to stop the progress of the BUF in the Thirties and not to tackle the problem of public disorder as this has long since been proven to have been caused by communist agitators.

New British Union also in keeping with the 1936 Public Order Act are not nor ever will be;

(A) Organised or trained or equipped for the purpose of enabling them to be employed in usurping the functions of the police or of the armed forces of the Crown; or

(B) Organised and trained or organised and equipped either for the purpose of enabling them to be employed for the use or display of physical force in promoting any political object, or in such manner as to arouse reasonable apprehension that they are organised and either trained or equipped for that purpose.

The wearing of uniform does not make us a quasi-military organization any more than it does the Salvation Army or the boy scouts. It merely separates us from the old failed establishment parties and a political elite that the majority no longer trusts to govern the country for the true benefit of its people.

FAR LEFT IGNORANCE

As far as I'm concerned, in politics you need to develop a thick skin to take the obligatory expected abuse.	and we condemn blind spiteful hatred. Victims of racism experience trauma and the most degrading and frightening mental anguish, sometimes physical attacks leaving them with both physical and emotional scars for life.	animal cruelty is wrong. Unless you're a Muslim then it's okay? Is that equality? Is it racist to point out that animal cruelty is wrong regardless of whom you are?
But one thing that does still irritate me slightly is when people throw around the word "racist" willy-nilly in the most inappropriate fashion. Sometimes it can add amusement, as often the person screaming "racist" is ironically being racist themselves by using the word in the context they are.	So by throwing the term "racist" around; using it as a weapon to silence political opposition or to avoid engaging in civilized discussion you are spitting on those real, genuine victims.	It is not racist to ask these questions and broaden our minds to try and gain an understanding of what is wrong in this country and why we're having the problems society is facing today. It is infact the only way we'll ever find a way to solve these problems.
But mostly it irritates me as it's being used that often in the most odd and bizarre situations that it's losing it's meaning completely.	It is not racist to engage in civilized discussion. It is not racist to point out that multiculturalism has failed and subsequent segregation it's caused has led to needless bloodshed. It is not racist to state genocide is wrong whether it is by bullet or by forced out-breeding.	Racism is the politics of hate. Myself, I am in the politics of love. I love culture, all cultures. I love learning about them and reading about them. I don't want any culture to become diluted or extinct just because someone says it's "racist" not to want pubs on the street of India or brutal Halal torture chambers for animals on the streets of Yorkshire.
If you criticize monstrous actions performed by followers of Islam, for example, the far-left will call you "racist" for criticising it. Can they not see the irony? Islam is a religion, not a race. Any race can be part of that religion be they black, white or Arab.	It is not racist to acknowledge certain cultures are incompatible with each other. It is not racist to want distinct cultures to retain their individualism and remain distinct.	So the next time someone's views differ from your own; why not ask these questions, or try to answer a few of them in an intelligent & mature manner? Violence & immature blind hostility will get you or us nowhere.
So by calling people "racist" for criticising Islam they themselves are being racist by insinuating only one race follows Islam. It just boggles the mind doesn't it? I also dislike the disrespectful way in which it is used. Racist attacks are a form of bullying,	It is not racist to say that equal rights should mean just that; equal. Is it racist to criticize how in this country it's one law for the indigenous, and another law for others? Or is it racist of the government to say that	In union Tommy Tyerman

Integrity, loyalty and trustfulness

It is no easy task to maintain personal honour against opponents who have no concept of the meaning of such a word. We have been assailed with every dishonourable weapon, which our unscrupulous enemies could devise, from attacks on isolated members to victimisation by denunciation to employers. Yet we must not sink to the level of our opponents. We must fight with clean hands, proving by our moral superiority over our enemies that we are fit to lead in achievement while they are mainly fit to destroy.

A sense of honour is not a matter of private 'morality' good or bad, it is the status which the individual maintains in relation to his fellow men. It is the outward symbol of his inward value. A man whose word cannot be trusted may be a 'good guy' to some, but such a career does not coincide with our concept of morality. In another sphere a man, who is so venal that he will sell to the highest bidder whatever the issues involved, has ceased to be, as effectively as if he had put his head into a gas oven.

Let us make sure we are fit to undertake our struggle by maintaining standards of honourable conduct, which shall not be degraded by the scandalous and malicious behaviour of our enemies. Let us set honourable standards of integrity, loyalty and trustfulness, so that the NBU may make full use of us to advance the cause we serve. The future has need of men, let us make ourselves the men to mould that future.

Gary Raikes

Blackshirt courage

Courage is the acid test of political worth. To wear the Black shirt will test your courage, I hope you have this courage. If you should join us I can promise you this, when you have put on the black shirt you will become a knight of Fascism, of a political and spiritual order. You will be reborn anew. The Black shirt is the emblem of a new faith that has risen again in our land.

To all those who have heard our message I say; If you are men and women worthy of the new age and the new civilisation that is opening out before you; If you have an ounce of political courage within you; If you are revolutionaries ready to wield the Fascist axe to destroy all the rot within the present system; If you are patriots with a passionate love for your country and desire to see it the brightest and fairest land under heaven, then come and join us.

If you believe in the true greatness of Britain, if you believe that the Corporate State will bring economic salvation, then you will be received with joy in the New British Union of Fascists.

But the Black shirt is the test.
